

NEARLY 200 MINERS ARE ENTOMBED

TERRIFIC EXPLOSION IN COAL MINE IN UTAH OCCURS ON SATURDAY

Castle Gate, Utah, March 8.—A terrific explosion occurred today in mine No. 2 of the Utah Fuel Company here.

Mine officials said the blast came just after 9 o'clock.

No word from the interior of the mine had been received up to noon.

Approximately 175 miners entered the underground workings at 7 o'clock this morning.

Rescue work was under way within thirty minutes after the explosion occurred but the work was badly hampered by lack of equipment in Castle Gate. The mouth of the mine was jammed with debris.

Rock Springs, Wyo., March 8.—One hundred and seventy-six men are reported entombed in a coal mine at Castle Gate, Utah, following a terrific explosion in a coal mine there this morning. No particulars of the accident were given in the first report to reach here, but it is feared there may be heavy loss of life.

SECRET PLANS OF SENATE TOWARD DAUGHERTY TRIAL PARTLY KNOWN

Washington, Mar. 8.—A carefully planned blanket of secrecy, thrown around its plans by the senate committee in charge of the "public trial" of Attorney General Harry M. Daugherty, was partially lifted today as a result of the premature publication of the names of subpoenaed witnesses.

The secrecy was lifted in San Antonio, Texas, by United States Marshal D. A. Walker, a brother-in-law of the attorney general, the committee was informed. Walker was said to have made public the names of three men secretly summoned to appear against Daugherty at the committee's first public session next week. Members of the committee were up in arms as a result, Senator Brookhart, Republican of Iowa, chairman, even threatening dire punishment for Walker "if any harm should follow."

Daugherty was enabled to know in advance the manner of charges which he will have to face when his "public trial" starts. The committee, however, refused to make them public.

Daugherty also drew first blood in advance of the senatorial committee room battles. By action of a New York grand jury in indicting Gaston B. Means, Colonel Thomas B. Felder and Elmer Jarnecke on charges of conspiracy to bribe Daugherty and other department of justice officials, the attorney general was said to have stolen a march on his senatorial accusers. The three men were charged with accepting fees from men under indictment on the promise of using their influence with Daugherty to have the indictments quashed.

The story of the New York cases already has been the subject of senate debate and on one occasion, Senator Wheeler publicly charged that "if Daugherty had not accepted the money collected in his name, he is a bigger fool than the country takes him for."

Friends of Daugherty declared the indictments were a flat repudiation of Wheeler's charge. Wheeler announced, however, he would not drop this phase of his proposed investigation as a result of the indictments.

When the investigating committee met today, Senator Brookhart called its attention to the undesired publicity given to its summoning of witnesses. Brookhart laid the San Antonio angle before the committee he said, to get a decision on whether some action should be taken against Marshal Walker.

The reason for the secrecy on names of witnesses, Brookhart explained was due to reports reaching members of the committee that an effort had been made to hush up certain witnesses.

WOMEN TAUGHT TO SYSTEMATIZE WORK

Berkeley, Cal., March 7.—Union hours for women keeping house is possible at the present. No more staying up at all hours of the night, cleaning house, finishing the ironing and other duties for the woman who is already worn out from the cares of the day. She needs the rest even more than her husband, who has enjoyed a good dinner and an evening of rest to offset his day of work.

This is the dictum of Mrs. A. F. Morgan, of the Home Economics Department of the University of California, who says that if women would systematize their work they could get through in a much shorter time and with much better results. In the university courses are being given in the planning of a housewife's time. In this way future wives will be able to get up at a reasonable time in the morning, Mrs. Morgan declares, start a planned course of work and finish by noon, with no rushing around and with a clear conscience and a clear head.

"Then," according to Mrs. Morgan, "the wife will be able to play bridge in the afternoon, go to theatre and do just what she wishes with her time, going home in the evening to a planned-out meal. Husbands will also appreciate coming home to a lovely, rested wife at night instead of the tired-out, disheveled person who used to greet them at the door with a thousand complaints of too much work and of everything that had gone wrong that day."

"Psychology proves that a tranquil mind leads more to happiness than anything else. Therefore, if women are happy in their work and have a contented, rested mind as well as body, they will be much happier and will influence their families to be the same."

ACT AS JUDGES AT COLLEGIATE DEBATE

Prosecuting Attorney J. Kenneth Williamson of this city and Judge Roscoe Hornbeck of London, acted as judges at inter-collegiate debates on the League of Nations at Springfield Friday night.

The Wittenberg college team won its debate with Otterbein at Springfield. Judge Marcus Shoup of this city was to have been the third judge at the debate but was unable to be present. Both judges concurred on all points.

DENBY DECLARES THAT NAVAL OIL LEASES PROPER

Secretary Reiterates That Contracts Beneficial to Government.

Washington, March 8.—On the eve of his retirement to private life, Secretary of the Navy Edwin B. Denby today again came to the defense of the leasing of the naval oil reserves and declared the contracts entered into with H. F. Sinclair, and E. L. Doheny, are beneficial to the government.

Denby's position was made known in a letter addressed to Representative Britten, Republican of Illinois, responding to a house resolution requesting certain information concerning the leases.

Denby repudiated reports that the leases were made without competitive bidding and declared that as a result of the leasing of Teapot Dome, the government in 1923 received 41 cents per barrel more for royalty oil than the selling price of all other producers in the Salt Creek field adjoining the Wyoming reserve.

Had the production of Teapot reached even the minimum anticipated at the time of the lease, the amount the navy would have received on its royalty oil above the daily market price would have been more than $16,000,000 and would have exceeded by many millions of dollars all of the cash bonuses ever received from the sale of government leases in the Salt Creek field, Denby declared.

Denby justified the leasing under the express provisions of act of June 4, 1920, which was adopted upon the recommendation of ex-Secretary of the Navy Daniels and declared that it has been the practice for many years for one executive department to perform the services for another.

This work is expressly provided for in the act of May 21, 1920. The navy, he said, had frequently performed services for the war and treasury departments.

TALKS ON SCHOOL

Cincinnati, O., March 8.—Darrel Joyce, Superintendent of schools of Hamilton, Ohio, addressed a meeting of the Hamilton County Teacher's association this morning on "Law and School Administration."

He was secured from John Crawford, 29; Ralph Winstead, 22; Walter Emmerger, 25, and Corliss Leo, 20.

"Red," Myers, 29, and Ernest Mahoney 23, were implicated and are reported to have admitted their complicity. Robert Osborne, 25, was freed and Ralph Lee, 19, denies his guilt.

Myers is alleged to have been the ringleader. Cloveseed, valued at $135 was taken from elevators at Rawson, Mount Cory, Mount Blanchard, Hoytsville and Vanlue. The loot was sold in Marion and Cleveland.

SENATOR TAKES STAND IN OIL INVESTIGATION

Statement of Bennett Before Committee Attacked Saturday

Washington, Mar. 8.—Directly conflicting stories were given the senate oil investigating committee today by two witnesses—Senator Charles Curtis, of Kansas, Republican whip of the senate and Ira Bennett, chief editorial writer of the Washington Post. Both were under oath, and the "short and ugly word," frequently trembled unspoken on the lips of both during a lively session of the committee.

Curtis staunchly denied he was "the principal" referred to in Bennett's telegram to E. B. McLean, the telegram that assured McLean "the principal" had said there would be no rocking of the boat and no cabinet resignations as a result of the oil mess.

Bennett said he had consulted Curtis about the policy of the Post in printing news of the oil investigation—Curtis denied it.

Bennett said Curtis told him that he (Curtis) had advised President Coolidge "to get rid of Daugherty."

Curtis denied it.

Bennett said he had several conversations with Curtis about the political aspects of the investigation—Curtis denied it.

Bennett said he saw Curtis just before he sent the famous "Principal" telegram to McLean—Curtis denied it.

All of the testimony was under oath, and the situation became exceedingly tense at times during the session.

Washington, Mar. 8.—Senator Curtis, Republican of Kansas, took the stand in the senate's oil investigation today and denied under oath that he was "the principal" in the telegram which Ira A. Bennett sent to E. B. McLean at Palm Beach on January 29.

It was this telegram which quoted "the principal" as assuring McLean there would be "no rocking the boat and no resignations," as a result of the oil disclosures. Democratic senators have charged that the "principal" was President Coolidge.

Bennett said yesterday under oath "the principal" was Senator Curtis. Curtis said he preferred that the committee question him but at Senator Walsh's suggestion he made a short statement.

"About the second or third of January, Bennett and John F. Major (McLean's secretary) called at my office. They said they came in the interest of McLean who was ill at Palm Beach and desired to be relieved from testifying. Bennett told me McLean's boy had been operated upon."

"They asked me to see Senator Walsh and ascertain if the committee would take a statement. I suggested they see Senators Underwood or Robinson. I might have said I could see Senator Lenroot."

"I don't remember seeing Bennett again until Senator Norris made his speech January 30. In that speech he made some reference to McLean's family. I asked Senator Norris to withdraw the remarks. He said he would."

"I told Bennett Senator Norris would withdraw his remarks and suggested he have McLean wire thanks to Senator B. B. Borah, Norris and Walsh."

"That's the extent of my conversations with Bennett, as I recall it."

"Did you have any talk between that and January third with Bennett?" Walsh asked.

"That's my recollection," replied Curtis.

"Do you remember any talk with Bennett, touching the political effect of disclosures?"

"I do not," said Walsh.

Curtis was excused, and Bennett was called.

"Did you care to make any further statement?" asked Walsh.

"Senator Curtis has apparently forgotten one conversation and probably two I had with him. I reiterate I had one conversation and probably two he doesn't remember."

"What he said today was absolutely correct as far as he relates to our conversation," said Bennett.

In summoning Leonard Wood Jr., son of Governor General Leonard Wood, of the Philippines, and a candidate for the Republican presidential nomination in 1920, the committee decided to do some excavation work into political history to discover if the leasing of the oil reserves played any part in determining the nominee of the 1920 Republican convention. Young Wood, manager of a local theater, was called for Wednesday.

H. F. Taff, manager of the Western Union, gave the committee today telegrams subpoenaed from Three Rivers, N. M., where the ranch of ex-Secretary of Interior Fall is located. The subpoena called for messages sent or received by Fall, Harry F. Sinclair, Colonel J. W. Zevely, Colonel Robert Stewart of the Standard Oil Company of Indiana, and H. M. Blackmer, of the Midwest Refining Company.

Pat Moran "Miracle Man" In Baseball World Is Dead

Orlando, Fla., Mar. 8.—Patrick Joseph (Pat) Moran, known throughout the baseball world as the "miracle man," lost his fight against death here last night. His end came after a restless night and day, during which he rallied from his comatose state long enough to recognize several friends. His death caused sincere mourning in the Red camp. Mrs. Moran and their two children arrived from Cincinnati in time to be with their chief before he died.

Funeral arrangements have not been perfected, but it is believed the body will be taken to Cincinnati early next week.

Pat Moran was born in Massachusetts, in 1876, played minor league ball a few years and then broke into the major leagues as a member of the Boston Nationals, later with the Cubs. He went to Philadelphia as manager in 1915 and gained fame as the "miracle man" by winning the pennant that year. He remained with the Phillies for three more years and then went to New York. He came to the Reds in 1919 and won this town's only pennant. In 1920, the team finished third. In 1921 the Reds fell sixth place but finished second in 1922 and 1923. He was the oldest man in the National league in point of years given to baseball and also was the most famous developer of pitchers of his day.

When the Cubs were winning pennants Moran's coaching made winning pitchers of "Three Fingered" Brown, Ed Reubach, Orval Overall, King Cole, Jack Pfeister and others. He developed Alexander, Corridon, Chalmers and other great ones for the Phillies, Dutch Reuther, Hod Eller, Jimmy Ring, Eppa Rixey, Pete Donohue and Adolfo Luque became great hurriers for the Reds under his guidance.

TWO MEN AND TWO WOMEN ARE HELD ON CHARGES OF THEFT

With the arrest and conviction of two men and the arrest of two women, the Sheriff's office believes it has taken an important inaugural step in its campaign to break up chicken stealing and hog stealing in Greene County.

Chester Mendenhall, 37, Hook Rd. and Banner Morgan, Springfield, have both been sentenced in the court of Justice of the Peace J. E. Jones following confessions and guilty pleas in which they admitted recent chicken thieving. Mrs. Mary Mendenhall, wife of Chester Mendenhall, and Mrs. Nellie Rife, Springfield, are being held in the County Jail pending further action.

Morgan, charged with "entering a place for the purpose of stealing poultry," pled guilty and was fined $450 and costs and sentenced to sixty days in the Dayton Work House by Magistrate Jones. Mendenhall, who turned states' evidence and gave officers the tip that led to the arrest of Morgan and the Rife woman, was fined $100 and costs and sentenced to thirty days in the Dayton Work House on his plea of guilty to a charge of petit larceny.

Mendenhall was arrested Friday by Chief Deputy Sheriff John Baughn and Deputy George Spencer and was grilled by Deputy Baughn. Sheriff Morris Sharp and Prosecuting Attorney J. Kenneth Williamson. He confessed to stealing sixteen chickens from Crampton Lot, farmer, southeast of Xenia Saturday night, and twenty-three chickens at the same place Sunday night. All were disposed of in Xenia.

Mendenhall involved his wife, Morgan and the Rife woman in the thefts and other similar depredations. Will Short and J. B. Rheubert, other farmers in the neighborhood, have been robbed of chickens recently. Morgan was arrested in Springfield Friday by Deputy Sheriff Spencer, but admitted only one theft when questioned. None of the offenses were of sufficient amount to justify charges of grand larceny, according to Prosecutor Williamson, and the charge against Morgan was a hitherto unused section that had never been applied here before.

A charge of petit larceny was all that could be placed against Mendenhall, officials said, as it could not be proven that it was necessary them to break into chicken houses in order to steal the poultry.

Mrs. Mendenhall was taken into custody with her husband and Deputy Sheriff Spencer returned to Springfield Saturday for the Rife woman. Officials say the arrests are the first guns in a campaign to break up numerous reports of chicken and hog stealing.

OHIO TEACHERS MAY BORROW TO MEET EXPENSES

Only Way Out of Financial Straits in Some Districts

Columbus, O., March 8.—A ray of hope for financially stricken schools was voiced today by Attorney General Crabbe. In a ruling to State Education Director Riegel, Crabbe points out the way to provide financial relief for schools about to close for lack of funds.

Levy of a three mill tax by county education boards and collection in entirety on the June duplicate is the remedy, a legal one, Crabbe declared. He urged Director Riegel to pave the way for aid of rural schools by ordering county boards to make the levy to make subsequent application for and assistance from the state educational equalization fund.

Columbus, Ohio, March 8.—Financially stricken public schools through out the state may continue to operate despite ruling announced by State Supreme Court Friday afternoon that boards of education cannot borrow money with which to defray costs of operating, the schools.

In an opinion, given to State Education Director Riegel, Attorney General Crabbe rules that teachers may borrow funds in anticipation of collecting their salaries next June. I. they refuse to do this, Crabbe held school boards need not pay the teachers for full term, on the ground of violation of contract. Crabbe in formed Riegel that school board may certify to the county auditor, for collection next June, the special three mill tax levy for school purposes where district school boards failed to submit the levy to a vote of the people last year or where the voters rejected it.

The attorney general held the state department of education could advance funds necessary to keep the schools going, being reimbursed by district boards when they receive their money next June, or the teachers can continue their work until the end of the term without pay, collecting their back salaries when the boards' treasuries again are full.

Doctor Riegel expressed belief that the practical solution of the problem is for the teachers to collect their pay next June.

COURT RULES ON SCHOOLS BORROWING

Columbus, O., March 7.—Schools cannot borrow money with which to meet operating expenses nor can they participate in the state educational equalization fund until after an additional three mill tax levy has been made the State Supreme Court ruled this afternoon.

The ruling was announced in connection with the court's decision of the cases of the state on relation to the Montgomery County board of education, and the state on relation of Charles F. Perkins, a Miami County taxpayer, versus members of the Miami school board, State Education Director Riegel and Miami County auditor.

Interest to Motorists

NEW BUICK 4-PASSENGER COUPE

The Buick Four Passenger Coupe is one of the cars attracting considerable attention. The Buick is on display at the Xenia Garage.

FLINT SIX NOW BEING HANDLED BY LOCAL AGENTS

This will introduce to you one of America's newest, high class cars—The Flint Six.

Product of the Durant brain, the new automobile which is attracting attention at all the shows, will now be sold exclusively in Greene County by Dickman and Johnston, North Whiteman Street, present agents for the Durant and Star.

The Flint is the result of long and tedious effort and the expenditure of more than $2,000,000 in research and experimental work by W. C. Durant, creator of the Durant and Star cars. It adds to the Durant and Star line a higher priced car, built to attract those who insist on a more carefully finished machine than the lower priced cars offer.

The new car is powered with a six-cylinder L-head type motor. The cylinders are cast en bloc with the upper half of the crankcase. There is a force feed oiling system, and a centrifugal water pump cooling system. A Stromberg carburetor is used and the De Jon system of starting and ignition is employed. The rear axle is semi-floating Warner transmission is used, the springs are semi-elliptic and the new cars feature the Durant Tugular backbone.

The Flints are built on a 120 inch wheelbase, equipped with 32 by 4 1/2 cord tires. Alomite chassis lubrication is used, and the gasoline supply is a Stewart vacuum system from a twenty gallon tank. The instrument board equipment includes speedometer, clock, gasoline gauge, oil gauge, ammeter, lighting and ignition switch, choke, two lights and a cowl ventilator regulator.

The cars are now on exhibition at the new local agency and prices may be obtained from the agents, who will be glad to give a demonstration of the new car.

DAVIS OIL STATION ATTRACTIVE PLACE FOR THE MOTORIST

Motorist following the line of least resistance are going to find the Davis Oil Company, especially at its filling station on West Main Street, an unusually attractive place to deal.

As a part of the service this company offers its patrons, the concern has installed a brand-new air pressure device, which eliminates most of the annoyances connected with filling tires to the proper degree.

The new device is attached to the free air service hose maintained at the filling station. The motorist sets the dial on the instrument at the number of pounds pressure he desires to put in his tires, and a small incandescent light up. He then applies the hose to the valve and when the tire is filled to the correct amount, the light automatically goes out and notifies the motorist.

The device eliminates fooling with a pocket pressure gauge. It also eliminates the trouble of applying the gauge several times to the valve, and then may be filling the tire too much, and having to release some of the air. It not only eliminates trouble, but hastens and simplifies the tire-filling job and makes it possible for more patrons to take advantage of the free service.

The Davis Oil Company has made its popularity on the Sinclair line of oils and greases and maintains a free service on these products to all parts of the county. They are therefore, just as near to the disabled motorist as the nearest telephone. The West Main Street filling station is a proper mecca for motorists and sells a large quantity of the high grade benzol that many motorists "won't use nothin' else but."

Things We Used to Do

You had to tip the body over sideways when you wanted to get at the engine on an automobile.

You entered the tonneau by way of a door on the rear of cars.

You stopped several times on a short trip and shut off your engine to allow drivers of horses to get past without having a run-away.

You did not have any driver's licenses or numbers on cars.

All tires were changed on the road and pumped up by hand.

Tops, windshields and headlights had to be bought extra.

Gasoline sold at retail for nine cents a gallon.

Cars were only used in the summer time.

One-cylinder cars were popular.

Cars cranked on the side.

There were no traffic cops.

If you made a trip to Bridgeport and returned and did not have engine or tire trouble, you were not believed upon your return.

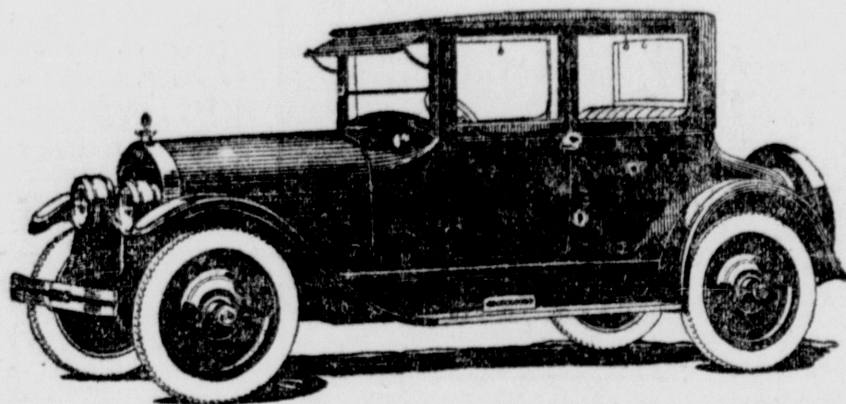

Cars steered with a handle instead of a wheel.—New Haven Register.

LAW ENFORCEMENT STUDIED AT W. C. T. U. MEET

An extensive program on world-wide prohibition, and other phases of law enforcement, was conducted at the meeting of the A. C. Turrell W. C. T. U., held at the home of Mrs. E. H. Carruthers, on West Market Street, Friday afternoon.

Mrs. Carruthers conducted the opening devotions, and following the general routine of business, Mrs. Charles Dean, chairman of the county and local soldiers' and sailors' work, made an appeal for the members of the organization to knit the afghans, or small knee blankets, for the ex-soldiers at the National Military Home.

Mrs. Marie Smith, of Spring Valley, was a guest at the meeting, and gave an interesting report on an all-day meeting held recently by the McClelland W. C. T. U.

Mrs. E. W. Middleton was in charge of the main part of the afternoon's program, on "World-Wide Prohibition." She was assisted by a group of women, who read papers on various phases of the work. They were, Mrs. Garland Washburn, "Face The Truth;" Mrs. Charles Tindall, "The Beer Flow Checked;" Mrs. Charles Evin, "A Message From Japan;" Mrs. Luella Jackson, "Italy Tightens Up;" Mrs. Laura E. Dunkel, "The Cause of the W. C. T. U. Presented Before the Federal Council of Churches;" Mrs. Emma Simons, "Selected Anarchists;" Mrs. J. W. Eley, "Reasons for some of the Federal Prohibition Legislation, actively supported by the W. C. T. U.;" Mrs. M. J. Bebb, "The Price Paid For Law Enforcement;" Mrs. E. F. Canby, "Prohibition Growth in Egypt;" Mrs. Walter Dean, "Winning a Million Members;" Mrs. A. M. Tenkinson, "Doers of Opportunity."

Eight new members were received into the union, at the meeting. Mrs. Carruthers was assisted by Mrs. Walter Dean, Mrs. Charles Tindall, Mrs. L. R. Robertson and Mrs. Emma Simons.

The next meeting, in April, will be held at the home of Mrs. N. T.

MISSIONARY SOCIETY PRESENTS THREE PLAYS

The value of the various phases of missions was brought out in an interesting manner, by the presentation of three charming plays, by the members of the Young Women's Missionary Society of the Second United Presbyterian Church, in the church parlors, Friday night, under the direction of Mrs. J. Robert Bryson, president of the society.

The first playlet was "Miss Lecky's Views," the different parts being taken by the Misses Bessie McCall, Helen McCall, Helen Bradfute, and Eleanor Routzong.

"The Missionary Clinic" was the name of the second play, and the characters were taken by the Misses Mary Bickett, Blanche Bickett, Lois Hutchison, Louise Collins, Katherine Routzong, Madge McKeever, Helen McCall and Mrs. Bryson.

The third playlet was a delightful Japanese playlet, "From Candle-light to Sunlight," and the Japanese maidens were the Misses Mary Ballantyne, Agnes Ballantyne, Margaret Harper, Thelma Tindall and Celia Moore.

Mrs. Richard McClellan dressed in Japanese costume, played Japanese music between the acts, and at the end of the performance.

The church parlors were effectively decked with Japanese lanterns. The program was attended by a large number of members of the congregation and their friends.

JUNIOR HI P. T. A.

A social time, in charge of the teachers, will feature the meeting of the Junior High School Parent-Teacher Association, Monday afternoon at three o'clock.

The organization is continuing the membership drive, and several members will be received at the meeting.

ENTERTAIN DINNER GUESTS

Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Richards of South Detroit Street, entertained Mr. Herman Wells and Miss Helen Glenn, at dinner at their home, Friday evening.

Mr. Richard LeSourd, student at Ohio Wesleyan University, is spending the week end at his home here.

Mr. and Mrs. Marion F. Jones and daughter, Betty, of near Fairfield, have had as their guests this week, Mr. and Mrs. Hillary Carpenter and son, Junior, of Quaker City, Ohio. They will go to Sidney, Ohio, where they will visit relatives, after completing their visit at the Jones home.

Mr. William J. Schneider, who has been confined to the hospital for the last three weeks is now able to be about.

STOMACH UPSET?

Get at the Real Cause—Take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets

That's what thousands of stomach sufferers are doing now. Instead of taking tonics, or trying to patch up a poor digestion, they are attacking the real cause of the ailment—clogged liver and disordered bowels.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets arouse the liver in a soothing, healing way. When the liver and bowels are performing their natural functions, away goes indigestion and stomach troubles.

Have you a bad taste, coated tongue, poor appetite, a lazy, don't-care feeling, no ambition or energy, trouble with undigested food? Take Olive Tablets the substitute for calomel.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are a purely vegetable compound mixed with olive oil. You will know them by their olive color. They do the work without gripping, cramps or pain.

Take one or two at bedtime for quick relief. Eat what you like. 15c and 30c.

The condition of Mrs. Grace Kersey, 40, of Kennedy Street, who was seriously burned over her body, when her clothing caught fire at her home a week ago Friday, is now more favorable according to attaches at the McClelland Hospital where she is a patient.

Miss Ruth Washburn, of Ohio Wesleyan University, Delaware is spending the week end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Garland Washburn. She will attend the marriage of Miss Catheryn Eckerle, and Mr. Raymond Tobias, Saturday evening.

THE SENATE ONWARD PLODS IN WEARY TOIL, BUT LEAVES "THE DOME" FOR LAUGHTER AND A RHYME

After having been gassed for weeks in the heavy fumes of oil and scorched by the flames of partisan debate, the U. S. Senate Tuesday found a welcome relief in a few moments of comedy, an excursion into the classics, parodied with the names and subjects of the hour.

Senator Heflin, of Alabama, renewing an attack on Edward L. Doheny, made a detour into the realm of literature and struck Henry Cabot Lodge of Massachusetts, in his home spot.

The result was a passage at words that sent the galleries off into roars of laughter, in which Senators on the floor joined without restraint.

Senator Heflin was referring to Mr. Doheny's tax refund of $40,000 by the Treasury Department when he diverted to a parody on the classic tale of Abou Ben Adhem.

The Golden Fleece

Abou Dough Heenie (may his tribe increase)
Awoke one night from a deep dream of peace
And saw within the moonlit room,
Making it rich like lily in bloom,

A Senator writing in a book of gold.
Enormous wealth had made Dough Heenie bold;
And to the Senator in the room he said:
"What writest thou?" The statesman raised his head,
And with a look which made Abou boil
Answered: "The names of those who speak for oil."

"And is mine one?" said Abou.

"We will see," replied the Senator; but Abou cheerily Responded in a still and softer tone:

"Write me as one who loves to make a loan."

The Senator wrote and vanished. The next day

He came again—it looked like Caraway—

And showed the names of those whom Fall liked best

And lo, Dough Heenie's name led all the rest.

While the chamber and galleries roared, Senator Lodge, the Republican leader and litterateur of the chamber, was not caught napping. From a typewritten sheet in his hand he replied with a parody on Longfellow's "Brothers and Sisters Have I None."

Mr. Vanderlip Says:

Absolute knowledge have I none.
But my aunt's washerwoman's sisters son
Heard a policeman on his beat
Say to a laborer on the street
That he had a letter just last week—
A letter which he did not seek—
From a Chinese merchant in Timbuctu
Who said that his brother in Cuba knew
Of an Indian chief in a Texas town
Who got the dope from a circus clown,
That a man in the Klondike had it straight
From a guy in a South American State
That a wild man over in Borneo
Was told by a woman who claimed to know
Of a well-known society rake
Whose mother will undertake
To prove that her husband's sister's niece
Has stated in a printed piece
That he has a son who never comes home
And who knows all about the Teapot Dome.

Senator Heflin seemed satisfied and resumed his speech, while the august Senate listened in better temper than it has enjoyed for several weeks.

HIS DAY IN COURT

By the emphatic vote of sixty-six to one the question of the Daugherty investigation is settled. He will go on trial for his political life. How long that trial may last or what results may flow from it no man in Washington or out may say.

Harry M. Daugherty had left the Senate no alternative. Smoldering distrust of him had become a flame with the discovery of the oil scandal. Day by day that scandal had crept in his direction. The fire upon him doubled and redoubled. Despite great pressure from within his own party, the known wishes of the President and undoubted loss of confidence in the Attorney General, he refused to resign. When a man less thick-skinned and hard-shelled would have bowed himself out of office for the Administration's good and that of the party that had raised him to power and place, he remained defiant.

His actions in the last week made the vote of Saturday certain. He had disgusted the Senate Republicans as well as defied them. All they were moved to do in his behalf was to soften the sharp charge of "neglect of duty" in the savagely drawn Wheeler resolution of inquiry to "alleged" neglect. But one lone negative voice was heard when the test came. That was the vote of Daugherty's personal friend, Senator Elkins of West Virginia.

The Attorney General had asked for his day in court. He demanded an investigation. He gets his wish and his demand. Always he has loved a fight and he is about to be accommodated for he will face a hand-picked committee of inquiry headed by the radical Senator from Iowa, Smith W. Brookhart, a committee named in the Democratic and radical Republican hope of driving Daugherty from the Cabinet.

THE HOME

Care followed him home, and snapped at his heels,
Seeking with hatred to poison his meals,
Seeking with malice to ruin his life.
To frighten his children and burden
his wife,
Seeking to steal the one joy he possessed,
To enter his home and to break up his rest.

"When I can get him to quarreling
there,
Get them to thinking that he is unfair,
When I can make them unhappy, and him
Cold to their pleasures, and bitterly grim,
When I can sit at his table," said
Care,
"Never again shall his mornings be fair.

"When I can hurt them and bring them to shame,

Cause them to blush that they carry his name,
When in rebellion his home shall divide,
His children desert and his wife turn aside,
Then shall his chances for happiness
cease,
Never again shall he lie down in peace.

"Fools, fools, are the men who don't know that all joy
Depends on the home that I seek to destroy;
That fortune is useless and glory is vain
When happiness under his roof won't remain.
Who seeks for contentment and honor pride,
Must cherish his home and leave battered outside."

1904--Twenty Years Ago--1924

Rioters burned out the dens and hovels along the levee in Springfield yesterday. Ten thousand armed citizens invaded the district, and destroyed the haunts of thugs and criminals, who fled for their lives. State troops were called out but could not subdue the angry mob.

John D. Rockefeller has not been interviewed or photographed in the last five years. Nearly all the pictures published are 25 years old or caricatures.

Spring is in the air and already the farmers are beginning their summer work. Roads are in good condition and many farmers are plowing.

Company I, of this city was ordered to Springfield last night to handle the riot there. The boys behaved like regulars through it all.

them to a large sheet of wrapping paper hung on the wall. Give them a green crayon, with which to try to draw a perfect shamrock. The best result should bring a prize.

Irish Language Contest: Stand the guests in line, then point at each one in turn. The player pointed at is supposed to speak in Irish word immediately—such as "gosssoon," "Mavourneen," etcetera. He who fails to do so before a full minute is up, must drop from the line. The one who is last to remain in the game, wins.

CONFESSES PART IN BLACKMAIL SCHEME

Los Angeles, Calif., March 7.—Stricken by his conscience and overcome by fear that the police "had something on him," Lawrence McLean, held in jail here on a charge of suspicion of burglary, broke down and confessed that he was a member of the $100,000 blackmailing ring of Cincinnati, O., officers said today.

McLean, according to the officers, to prove his contention that he was a member, produced the twelve original letters which he said were written by John L. Bushnell, Millionaire Springfield, Ohio, banker, to Rose Putnam, now serving a jail sentence for her participation in the blackmail ring.

Is there a person in the world who does not love the good-humor, great-heartedness and simple sentiment of the Irish race? I don't believe there is—at least, not a human person. And those of us who do, like to give a jolly little St. Patrick's Day party, somewhat like the following: Suitable refreshments for such a party are: a green salad made of sliced green peppers mixed with diced celery, heaped on lettuce, with a dab of Mayonnaise dressing on edge of plate; sandwiches filled with cream cheese which has been colored green by being mixed with a little chopped, cooked spinach; coffee, hot biscuits, cookies made in the shape of pigs (the housekeeper will have to shape these with her hands as best she can!) and green buns.

Table Decorations: Irish green crepe paper streamers laid flat on a yellow crepe paper tablecloth. Make a small crepe paper basket of green for each guest, to hold nuts and raisins. Centrepiece might be an imitation harp, a doll in green dancing costume, or the Irish flag in a green vase.

Games: Irish Names: Give each guest pencil and paper and, at a signal, have them start to write down all the Irish Christian names they can think of—as "Bridget," "Pat,"

There Was Nothing So Good For Congestion and Colds as Mustard

But the old-fashioned mustard plaster burned and blistered while it acted. Get the relief and help that mustard plasters gave, without the plaster and without the blister.

Musterole does it. It is a clean, white ointment, made with oil of mustard. It is scientifically prepared, so that it works wonders.

Gently massage Musterole in with the finger-tips. See how quickly it brings relief—how speedily the pain disappears.

Try Musterole for sore throat, bronchitis, tonsillitis, croup, stiff neck, asthma, neuralgia, headache, congestion, pleurisy, rheumatism, lumbago, pains and aches of the back or joints, sprains, sore muscles, bruises, chilblains, frost-bitten feet, colds of the chest (it may prevent pneumonia).

To Mothers: Musterole is now made in milder form for babies and small children. Ask for Children's Musterole. 35c and 65c, jars and tubes; hospital size, $3.00.

Today's Talks

JOHNNY WEISMULLER

Johnny Weismuller is the greatest swimmer in the world today. That is quite a statement, but who is there to dispute it?

He holds over fifty world's records. Those who should know say he is the fastest and most wonderful swimmer in form the world has ever known. And yet scarcely more than three years ago he came to the Illinois Athletic Club in Chicago and the great coach there, William Bachrach, says: "I watched him swim and it was awful! Little did I think that he had the makings of a champion."

But the boy was determined and the coach saw possibilities and between the two there was work, work, work.

It was this famous trainer who who started in a newspaper recently that "it takes an indomitable desire and a bulldog grip on work to make a champion." "Work and work, and more work" is the way he puts it.

Johnny Weismuller had this desire and the coach had the patience, and so we have our champion—scarcely out of his teens.

He hits the water like a shot out of a gun. He carries his head high using a combination crawl and trudgeon stroke. He reaches far ahead and his powerful, beautifully muscled arms and legs send him through the water like a swift motor boat. As you watch you realize that this swimmer loves the water and that there is behind this every stroke a story of work and practice.

But there is something still finer about this boy. He is modest and a gentleman. He takes his fame and applause gracefully. He is friendly and wholesome. Those who know him like him very much.

SURPRISES FEATURE BASKETBALL PLAY SATURDAY MORNING

Surprises featured the morning session's play of the tenth annual Greene County High School basketball tournament at Antioch College, Yellow Springs Saturday, two favorites being eliminated.

The tide of fortune swinging toward supposedly weaker teams during the preliminaries resulted in the elimination of Cedarville High, leader in the county league games, and Bellbrook High, which finished in second position in the loop contests.

Cedarville High, which team did not lose a game during the loop season and represented this district in the Class B state tournament at Dayton, lost to Yellow Springs High 12 to 11. Bellbrook High lost to Bath Twp. High 20 to 6 Saturday morning.

Jamestown's 31 to 7 victory over Spring Valley in the morning rounds was expected. Ross Twp. and Caesar Creek Twp., furnished a good game from nearly evenly matched teams, Ross winning 24 to 15. Jamestown was scheduled to meet Bath Twp., at 2:30 and Yellow Springs was scheduled to meet Ross at 3:10. Dopesters believe Jamestown and Yellow Springs will meet Saturday night in the finals for the battle for the championship cup.

Ross High girls eliminated Bath High 21 to 11 in the first round of the girls play and Yellow Springs girls defeated Beaver girls 23 to 11. Ross and Yellow Springs will meet in the finals at 7:30 o'clock Saturday evening and the winners of the Jamestown-Bath and Yellow Springs-Ross games will play for the title at 8:10.

Cedarville High, eliminated Saturday morning, won the tournament title last year and was favored to repeat.

Greene Countians Who Have Achieved Distinction

(Editor's Note—This is the sixteenth of a series of articles concerning Greene County citizens and former citizens who have since attained national-wide prominence in their chosen fields of endeavor. It is interesting to note that Greene County has furnished more than its share of people who have later attained renown.)

CHARLES WILLIAM DREES

The Rev. Charles William Drees is retiring from the missionary field of the Methodist Episcopal Church after fifty years of untiring service.

This long record of service, which closes with his recent retirement from the Argentina field and his departure from Buenos Aires, entitles his biography place among these sketches even if he had not established the enviable reputation he has.

Mr. Drees was born in Xenia, September 13, 1851, the son of Tobias and Maria Susan Hynes Drees. He received his degree of A. B. at Ohio Wesleyan University in 1871, his A. M. in 1874 and returned for a D. D. degree in 1887. He was ordained a Methodist Episcopal minister in 1874 and was sent into Mexico as a missionary the same year.

From 1878 to 1885 he was superintendent of the Methodist Missions in Mexico and was district superintendent in 1885-1886. From 1887 to 1896 he was superintendent of Methodist missions in South America. He founded the Methodist missions in Porto Rico in 1900 and was superintendent there four years. From 1878 to 1912 he was legal representative and treasurer of the board of foreign missions of the M. E. Church in Porto Rico, Mexico and South America successively. In 1910 he was appointed by the Argentine Government as chief of staff official translators and interpreters at the Pan American Conference at Buenos Aires and in 1912 he was appointed by the American Bible Society a member of the joint commission for the preparation of the new Spanish version of the New Testament.

Dr. Drees founded the Theological Seminary and the Methodist Institute at Puebla, Mexico in 1875 and was principal of the Theological Seminary at Buenos Aires from 1891 to 1893. He was a delegate to the General Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church in 1890, 1904, and 1916 and reserve delegate in 1907. In 1901 he was a delegate to the Ecumenical Methodist Conference. He has been periodicals.

an editor and contributor to church Dr. Drees is a member of Phi Beta Kappa and Delta Tau Delta fraternities and a thirty-second degree Mason. His wife, who has greatly assisted him in his work, was Miss Mary Adaline Combs, of Owensville, Clermont County, Ohio.

MONEY AT WORK

Brief but Important Lessons in Finance, Markets, Stocks, Bonds and Investments

The cost of insurance increases with the risk. The greater the losses, the higher the premium all must pay. "I am not so particular about locking my windows any more," remarked one woman. "We carry burglar insurance, you know, and I wouldn't lose anything, really, if we were robbed." This attitude of mind is not entirely fainine.

While it is true that the so called single factor in the amazing increase in burglar insurance rates over the country—an increase that runs from ten to thirty per cent in metropolitan centers—carelessness of property holders has also helped bring about higher premiums. People have become so used to insurance and the comfort it brings in time of loss, that they tend to forget that each loss is paid out of the pocket of every policy holder. The more losses, the higher the premium—how else could the companies stay in business?

Putting Thought And Thrift Into Buying

You may be very certain that the regular reader of the A-B-C Classified Section is not a haphazard buyer—that he puts thought as well as money into purchasing—and that thrift goes into all his spending.

It is said that a fool and his money are soon parted—which saying is an adequate expression of opinion of the person who does not put thought into spending.

All those people who want to get the most for their money should diligently read the A-B-C Classified Section.

The pithy little offers which make up these columns disclose many different sources from which you can obtain the things you need. A little thought and a little regular reading of these well-indexed offers—cannot fail to make you a thrifty spender.

Today is the day to begin—and every tomorrow is the day to continue this excellent habit.

MASONIC LODGE IS HIGHLY COMPLIMENTED

Xenia Lodge, No. 49, Free and Accepted Masons, was highly complimented by Martin J. Spinks, of Wilmington, district lecturer and inspector of the Eighth Masonic District, following the annual inspection of the lodge, Friday night.

"Yours is as good, if not better than any other Masonic Lodge in the State of Ohio," he declared to lodge members.

One candidate, W. Crawford Craig was conferred the Master Mason degree. A chicken dinner was served by Jacob Kany, following the initiation and inspection. Dr. A. C. Messenger acted as toastmaster and introduced several lodge members, who gave short talks.

Covers were laid for 200 at the banquet.

FARM PROGRESS DISCUSS TESTING OF CATTLE ON NEW PLAN IN THE STATE

A discussion on the tubercular testing of cattle, on the area plan, will be led by Dr. L. P. Beechy, of the State Veterinarian's office, at the regular monthly meeting of the Yellow Springs, Farm Bureau, at the Farm Bureau hall, Tuesday night. Dr. W. S. Marshall of Yellow Springs will also take part in the discussion.

A demonstration on the making of a dustless duster will be given for women attending the meeting.

GRANGE NOTES

The division of Fish and Game and related conservation and propagation work should remain a part of the Agricultural Department of the state in the opinion of State Master Harry A. Caton of the Grange. Practically all the hunting and the great part of the fishing in Ohio must be done on or along farm lands; the game lives on farm lands; any general system of conservation and propagation must have the co-operation between the farm folks if it is ever successful, and for these reasons the farmer is vitally interested in these matters. What is really needed is a clearer understanding and closer co-operation between the farmers and those who are really interested in forestry, game and wild life; this understanding can be best promoted by keep the Division of Fish and Game a part of the Agricultural Department.

GRANGE AT ATLANTIC CITY

"The Executive Committee has not definitely decided, but indications are that this year's meeting of the National Grange will be held in Atlantic City," says one of the National Grange leaders. In 1922 the meeting was in Wichita, Kansas; last year in Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania; if this year's meeting goes to Atlantic City it is more than likely that the 1925 meeting will swing to some western state.

"BIG" GRANGE COUNTIES

Thirty-six counties in Ohio have a membership of over 1,000 each in the Grange. Eight counties are above the two thousand mark, and two have more than three thousand. The following counties are above the 2,000 mark in membership: Licking, 3,691; Columbiana, 3,320; Muskingum, 2,619; Hancock, 2,576; Ashland, 2,569; Lorain, 2,487; Knox, 2,255; Trumbull, 2,046. Indications are that most of these counties will show a growth this year. Two other counties that will likely go above the two thousand mark this year are Morgan with 1,971 members and Stark with 1,915.

BRINGING UP FATHER

The Evil Shepherd

By E. PHILLIPS OPPENHEIM

Shoplund closed the door behind him. Sir Timothy waited until he heard his departing footsteps. Then he turned back to Francis.

"Mr. Ledsam," he said, "I have come to ask you if you know anything of my daughter's whereabouts?"

"Nothing whatever," Francis replied. "I was on the point of ringing you up to ask you the same question."

"Did she tell you that she was leaving the Sanctuary?"

"She gave me not the slightest intimation of it," Francis assured his questioner; "in fact, she invited me to meet her in the rose garden last night. When I arrived there, she was gone. I have heard nothing from her since."

"You spent the evening with her?"

"To my great content,"

"What happened between you?"

"Nothing happened. I took the opportunity, however, of letting your daughter understand the nature of my feelings to her."

"Dear me! May I ask what they are?"

"I will translate them into words," Francis replied. "I wish your daughter to become my wife."

"You amaze me!" Sir Timothy exclaimed, with the old mocking smile at his lips. "How can you possibly contemplate association with the daughter of a man whom you suspect and distrust as you do me?"

"If I suspect and distrust you, it is your own fault," Francis reminded him. "You have declared yourself to be a criminal and a friend of criminals. I am inclined to believe that you have spoken the truth. I care for that fact just as little as I care for the fact that you are a millionaire, or that Margaret has been married to a murderer. I intend her to become my wife."

"Did you encourage her to leave me?"

"I did not. I had not the slightest idea that she had left the Sanctuary until Lady Cynthia told me, half-way to London this morning."

Sir Timothy was silent for several moments.

"Have you any idea in your own mind," he persisted, "as to where she has gone and for what purpose?"

"Not the slightest in the world," Francis declared. "I am just as anxious to hear from her, and to know where she is, as you seem to be."

Sir Timothy sighed.

"I am disappointed," he admitted. "I had hoped to obtain some information from you. I must try in another direction."

"Since you are here, Sir Timothy," Francis said, as his visitor prepared to depart, "may I ask whether you have any objection to my marrying your daughter?"

Sir Timothy frowned.

"The question places me in a somewhat difficult position," he replied coldly. "In a certain sense I have a liking for you. You are not quite the ingenuous nincompoop I took you for on the night of our first meeting. On the other hand, you have prejudices against me. My harmless confession of sympathy with criminals and their ways seems to have stirred up a cloud of suspicion in your mind. You even employ a detective to show the world what a fool he can look, sitting in a punt attempting to fish, with one eye on the supposed abode of crime."

"I have nothing whatever to do with the details of Shoplund's investigations," Francis protested. "He is in search of Reggie Wilmore."

"Does he think I have secret dungeons in my new abode?" Sir Timothy demanded, "or bulletins in which I keep and carve brainless youths for some nameless purpose? Be reasonable, Mr. Ledsam. What the devil benefit could accrue to me from abducting or imprisoning or in any way laying my criminal hand upon this young man?"

"None whatever that we have been able to discover as yet," Francis admitted.

"A leaning towards melodrama, admiration in its way, needs the leaven of well-balanced discretion and a sense of humor," Sir Timothy observed. "The latter quality is as a rule singularly absent among the myrmidons of Scotland Yard. I do not think that Mr. Shoplund will catch even fish in the neighborhood of the Walled House. As regards your matrimonial proposal, let us waive that until my daughter returns."

"As you will," Francis agreed. "I will be frank to this extent, at any rate. If I can persuade your daughter to marry me, your consent will not affect the matter."

"I can leave Margaret a matter of two million pounds," Sir Timothy said, pensively.

"I have enough money to support my wife myself," Francis observed.

"Utopian but foolish," Sir Timothy declared. "All the same, Mr. Ledsam, let me tell you this. You have a curious attraction for me. When I was asked why I had invited you to the Sanctuary last night, I frankly could not answer the question. I didn't know. I don't know. Your dislike of me doesn't seem to affect the question. I was glad to have you there last night. It pleases me to hear you talk, to hear your views of things. I feel that I shall have to be very careful, Mr. Ledsam, or—"

"Or what?" Francis demanded.

"Or I shall even welcome the idea of having you for a son-in-law," Sir Timothy concluded reluctantly. "Make my excuses to Mr. Shoplund. Au revoir!"

Shoplund came in as the door closed behind the departing visitor. He listened to all that Francis had to say, without comment.

"If the Walled House," he said, at last, "is so carefully guarded that Sir

Timothy has been informed of my watching the place and has been made aware of my mild questionings, it must be because there is something to conceal. I may or may not be on the track of Mr. Reginald Wilmore, but, the detective concluded, "of one thing I am becoming convinced—the Walled House will pay for watching."

BREAD is BUILD-WELL FOOD

Growing boys and girls love lots of good Bread—And it's their right just as much as blue skies, sunshine and play in the open.

Bread helps them to store up a big reserve of strength and energy for the bye-and-bye years.

Never count slices on a regular boy or girl. Tell them—
"When hungry, eat Bread," and then let them go to it.

Stiles Baking Co

By GEORGE McMANUS

It carries the audience from New York to Hades, from that ultra-warm spot to the North Pole, and from there to Candyland, wherever that is.

The transpositions are made immediately resulting in some interesting scene changing and some beautiful stage settings. Besides the plot, the revue is tuneful, and manned with a capable cast of singers, dancers and comedians. Song numbers are new and bright. The whole thing is from the pen of Charles George, who is the author of "My China Doll" and "Go Easy Mabel," other successful stage productions.
